Science Fair Project Topic Approval Sheet

Choosing your science fair project is one of the most important steps in the science fair process. Give this a lot of thought. Consider the following when making your selection:

- You will not be allowed to change your topic once it has been approved. Changing a topic will require you to re-do your entire experimental design.
- Your topic must be testable.
- Is your topic practical in terms of the amount of money you will need to spend and the amount of time you have to investigate?
- Is it a topic that you will be comfortable working with for an entire semester?

I have narrowed my science fair project to these three possible topics:
